THE DAILY HERALD.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1886.

THE KING'S JUBILEE.

Hoping that King David Kalakaua, to-day fifty years old, may henceforth reign in wisdom and peace, with his people and country's welfare ever at heart, spurning from the throne all evil counsellors who would for selfish ends wreck his Kingdom and ruin himself and his race, the HERALD joins with the loyal Hawaiian people in tendering His Majesty a hearty aloha, and wishing him decade on decade of bodily and mental health and prosperity on top of his jubilee.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERALSHIP.

The Cabinet has again its full complement by the appointment of Mr. Antone Rosa as Attorney-General. This gentleman's qualifications and claims for the office having been set forth and asserted in the HERALD, this paper can with as much consistency as heartiness commend the selection of His Majesty. Mr. Rosa has proved his fitness to discharge the duties of the office, by his able conduct of the Crown business in the Supreme Court as the deputy of successive Attorneys-General. He will not require a proxy to be paid for doing his work in that regard, while, as to the internal office duties, he is entitled to receive such competent aid as the law allows, so that on the whole an efficient administration of the legal business of the country may be anticipated during his tenure of office.

It is with unfeigned pleasure that this journal would greet Mr. Rosa's appointment, he being at once of native blood and eligible of merit for the position. In this feeling the best classes of resident foreigners will assuredly join, for they of all the people in the Kingdom are not partial to being under the government of professional politicians imported for the purpose, while either natives or whites belonging to the country by birth or long residence are available for high office. "Hawaii for Hawaiians" is a doctrine that foreign residents with certain reservations will sustain. There must be, for the success of that doctrine, Hawaiians to the front imbued with the desire for substantial progress and inspired with the spirit of the best civilization. Such Hawaiians must be honored of their own race and preferred by those who sway the sceptre, instead of their fellow-countrymen whose patriotism is of that spurious sort compounded of ignorant race prejudice and predilection for ancient practices only because they are Hawaiian and characterized by animal license. Mr. Rosa is generally recognized as one of the ablest Hawaiians living. He is also credited with being a man of honest purpose, faithful in the discharge of every duty and exemplary in the private relations of life. It is therefore not too much to say that his appointment to the Cabinet on the eve of His Majesty's jubilee birthday will make this day more auspicious in the eyes of all classes than it otherwise would have been. While the air is yet heavy with discontent, not without cause, at the unsettled state of the administration for weeks, it might be said months past, and at the reactionary policy that there has been too much reason for believing had been deliberately adopted by the head of the nation, this calling to the counsels of the throne of a man esteemed alike for character and talent, will inspire hope in the hearts of all good Hawaiians as well as foreigners that Richard will shortly be himself again, and that before the next Legislature assembles it will not be a minority that will be found holding aloft the national motto, "In right doing shall the nation be established."

No Wonder She Resigned.

Lady of the house—So, Bridget, you think you will have to leave me, do you?

Bridget—Yes, mum.

Lady of the house—What's the trouble? Is the work too hard for you?

Bridget—No, mum; I cannot complain about that.

Lady of the house—Isn't the pay satisfactory?

Bridget—Yes, mum.

Lady of the house—What, then, is the trouble?

Bridget—Yer see, mum, oime a brungster, an' thet kitchen, mum, was fitted for a blonde. I'll not stay, mum, an'try my complexion, mum, day an' night.—St. Paul Globe.

Odds and Ends.

The word of praise never hurts a manly man or womanly woman.

Wisdom is an ocean that has no shore, and foolishness is a narrow stream that has no bottom.

When death, the great reconciler, has come, it is never our tenderness that we repent of, but our severity.

It was a shrewd remark of an old Florentine that economy does not consist only in saving and sparing but also in using everything when there is need for it.
